BEING A RECORD OF ACTIVITIES AND EVENTS

OF THE SCHOOL YEAR

PUBLISHED BY

THE STUDENTS OF

C A L U M E T

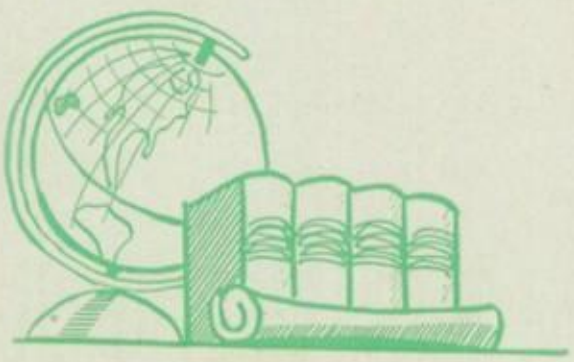
HIGH SCHOOL CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Foreword

Graduation day is drawing near again and high school days will be over for many. High school days! The very words bring a glow of happiness to the heart. Days filled with lessons, club meetings, Friday night socials, the "crowd" gathering for cokes after school—homework, report cards!

These high school days will forever bring back happy memories but over these memories will remain the shadow of the devastation and destruction that war brings—war which thrusts upon young people understanding and experience far beyond high school years.

As we take our places in adult society and enthusiastically assume the responsibilities of full-fledged citizenship, there is a mission for us to perform. Many of our classmates have fought to win the war, and our generation must use all its resources, wisdom, forbearance, and patience to win the peace. In the kind of peace we succeed in winning rests the happiness and security of future graduation classes. We must secure for them as well as for ourselves a lasting peace in a tolerant, free world so that once again high school days will be truly carefree and happy, and the horror of war will be a topic read about in history books —not a grim reality to be bravely lived through. As we stand on the threshold of what promises to be a brighter tomorrow our hearts and hopes are high.



Young Americans, independent in thought and action, happily working in one of Cal's sunny class rooms.

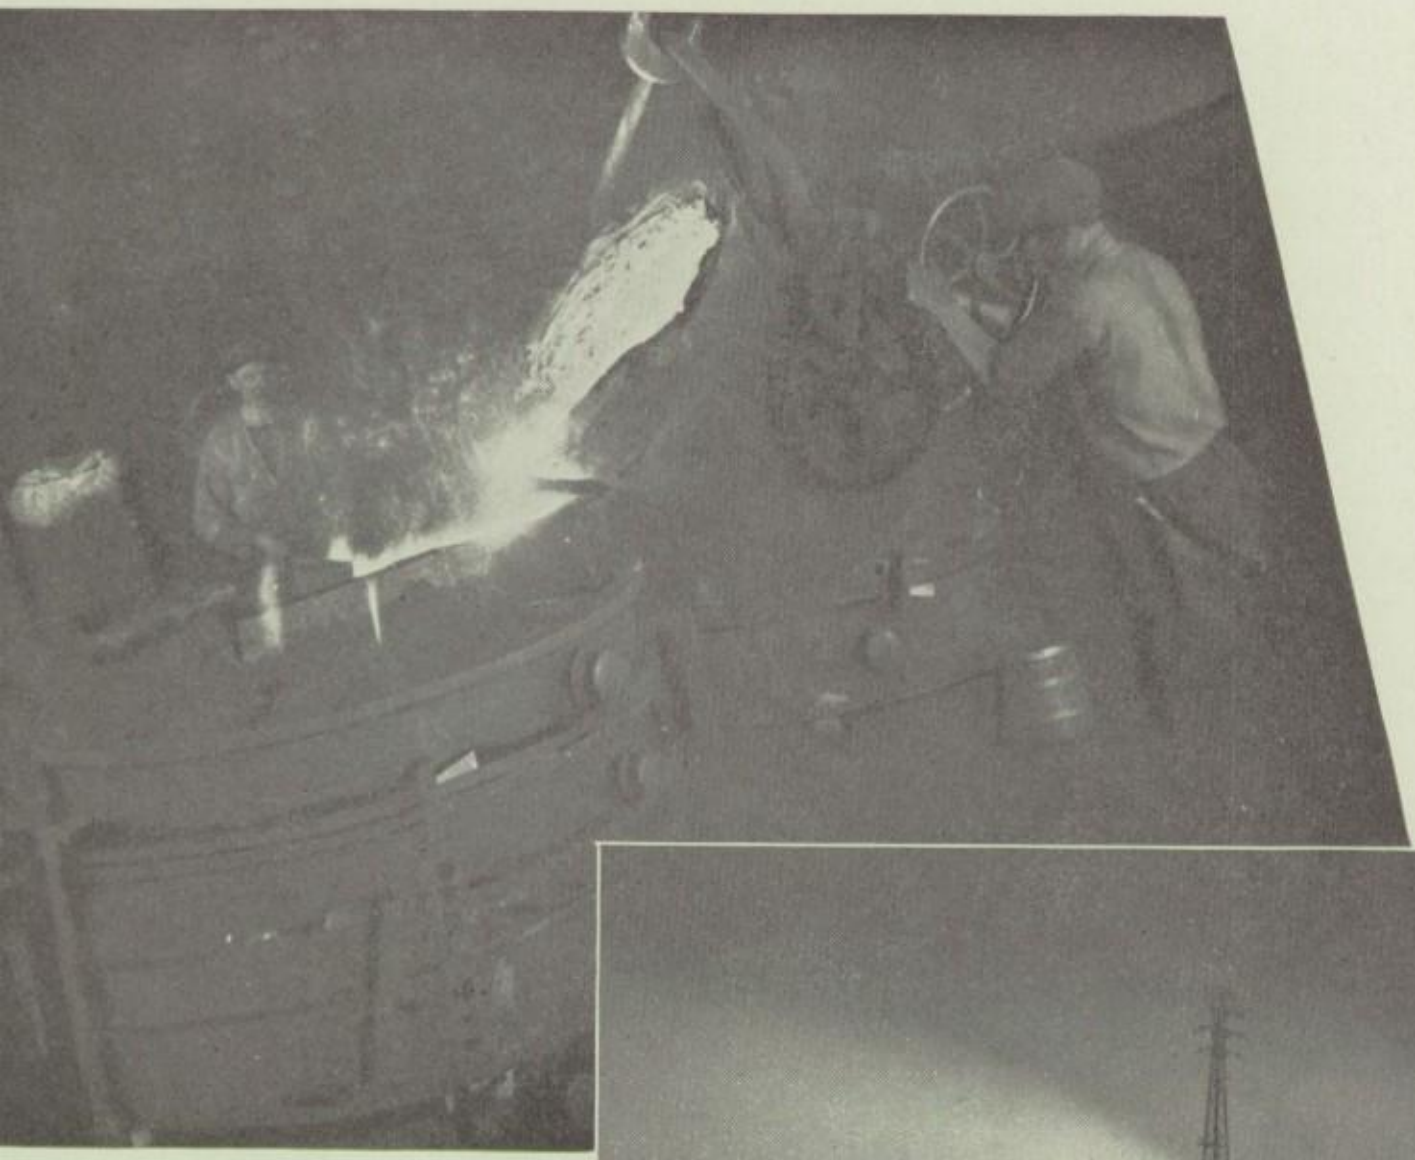
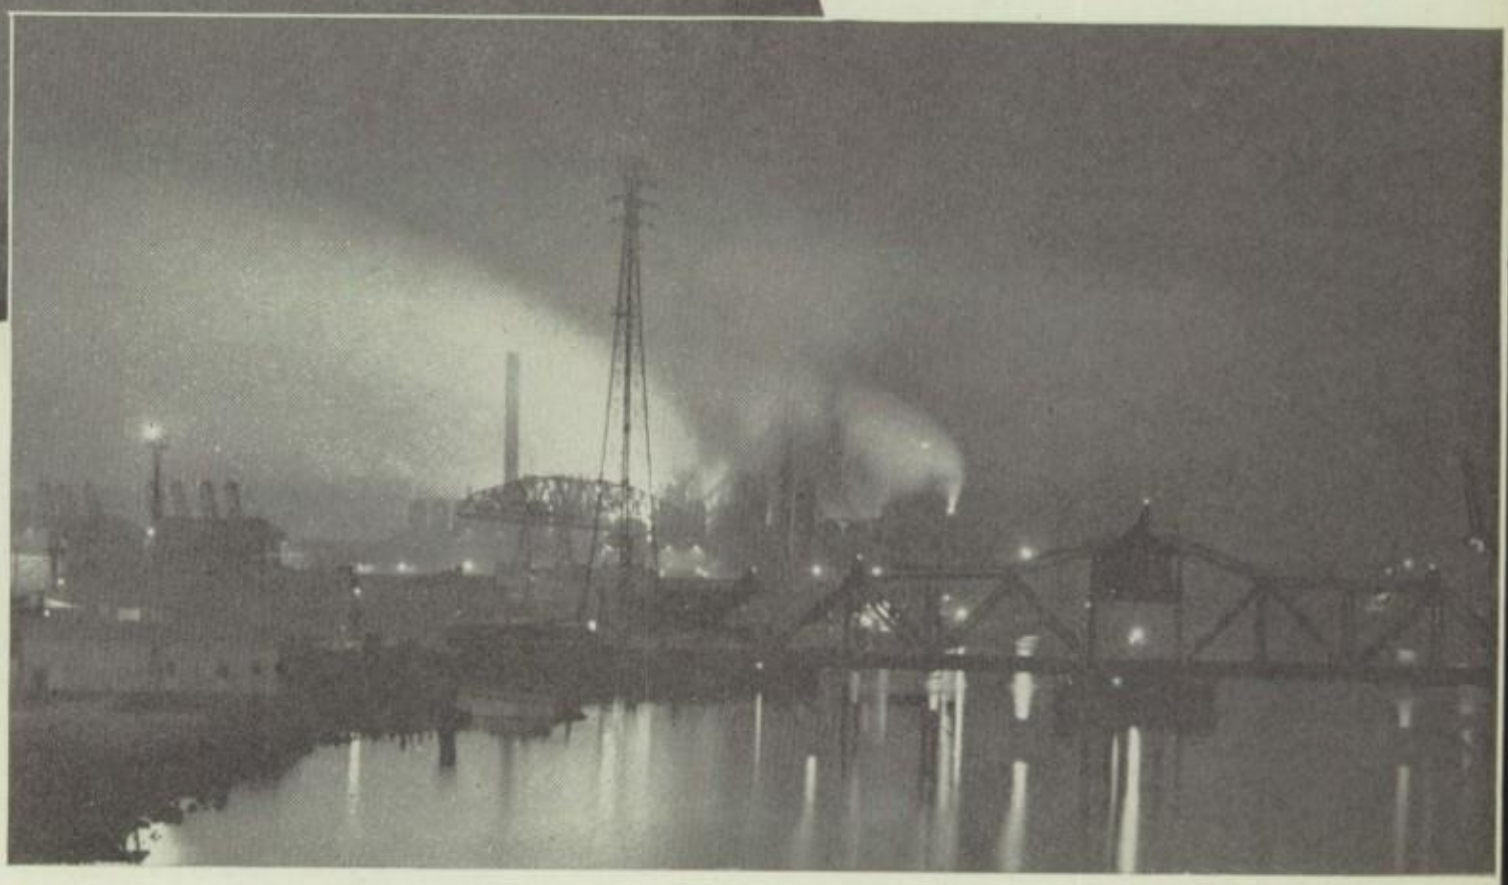
WHEN PEACE COMES AGAIN

Dedication

. . . Peace! The object of countless prayers offered by terrified war orphans of China, battle-weary Red Cross nurses on Bataan, determined Russian snipers at Stalingrad. . . . Peace! A signal for the husky sun-bronzed youth of Iowa to lay down his bayonet and return to his beloved tractor and rolling acres of waving grain . . . a time when factories can resume the manufacture of peacetime commodities. . . . Peace! When there will no longer be an empty place at the fireside where a Joe, or a Bob, or a Tom used to sit. . . . An everlasting peace that involves the understanding and the co-operation of mankind the wide world over, no matter what the race, color, or religion may be. It is to that peace, that this book is so earnestly dedicated.





MR. GLENN C. WORST

Speaks

TO THE GRADUATES

I greet this graduating class with the realization that you have before you a tremendous adventure — the great adventure of life. How you live that life and the role you play in it depends to a great extent upon you.

You are living in a time of great crisis, not only in our own country, but also in the world. The past four years has been a time of turmoil, of war and destruction. You must build for the future out of the rubble of the past, preserving that which is good and building a better world than we have ever known. A world in which people can live in security and decency as free men. As Franklin D. Roosevelt has so aptly put it, "The American people have a rendezvous with destiny." You are a part of that destiny. That is your challenge. I know you will do your part.

"Sail fast, sail fast,
Ark of my hopes, ark of my dreams;
Sweep lordly. O'er the drowned past,
Fly glittering through the sun's strange beams.
Sail fast, sail fast."

MR. EGBERT HUNTER

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

An open door and a ready smile always greet any Calite who may wish to confer with Egbert Hunter, Calumet's jovial assistant principal.

Besides being third year counselor, Mr. Hunter is constantly busy helping to keep the school running smoothly and advising students on what subjects to take and how best to prepare for a career.

OFFICE

The office, with its busy, bustling yet cheerful atmosphere, like the hub of a huge wheel, is the center of activity at Calumet. Here all records are kept and any one of Cal's 3200 students can be located instantly by referring to the carefully filed student program cards. Mail goes to and fro; telephones ring; anxious parents come to consult about their offspring. Yet, through all this, clerks and student helpers are always ready to put their routine work aside to help inquiring parents or students. Yes, Cal's office is a pleasant, cheery place!

Teachers? Well, of course, they do get on our nerves sometimes, but, when you come right down to it, they're really pretty nice people, homework and all. Sometimes we think that we shall forget the entire faculty the minute we leave school, but we really couldn't, not even if we tried ever so hard. There are too many things that are part of us that they've had their share in. No, we'll always remember them and they will remember us, too. We couldn't forget. We've given each other so much.

FACULTY

But teachers aren't always serious.
They have their good times, too.

CAUGHT BY THE CAMERA

Gentle snowflakes falling so softly, nary a sound as they hit the ground. Winter! Snowball fights, sleigh-rides, tobogganing, skiing, ice skating, and long walks in the cold crisp air.

COUNSELORS

Counselors are friendly and understanding "big brothers" or "big sisters" who help solve the perplexing problems that make high school life so complicated.

From freshies who don't know where their gym classes meet on Monday to seniors who have difficulty in arranging their programs, all Cal students are familiar with the sympathetic advice given to them by their counselors.

Yes, you can be sure with a school as large as Calumet and an enrollment in proportion, a lot of counseling is needed.

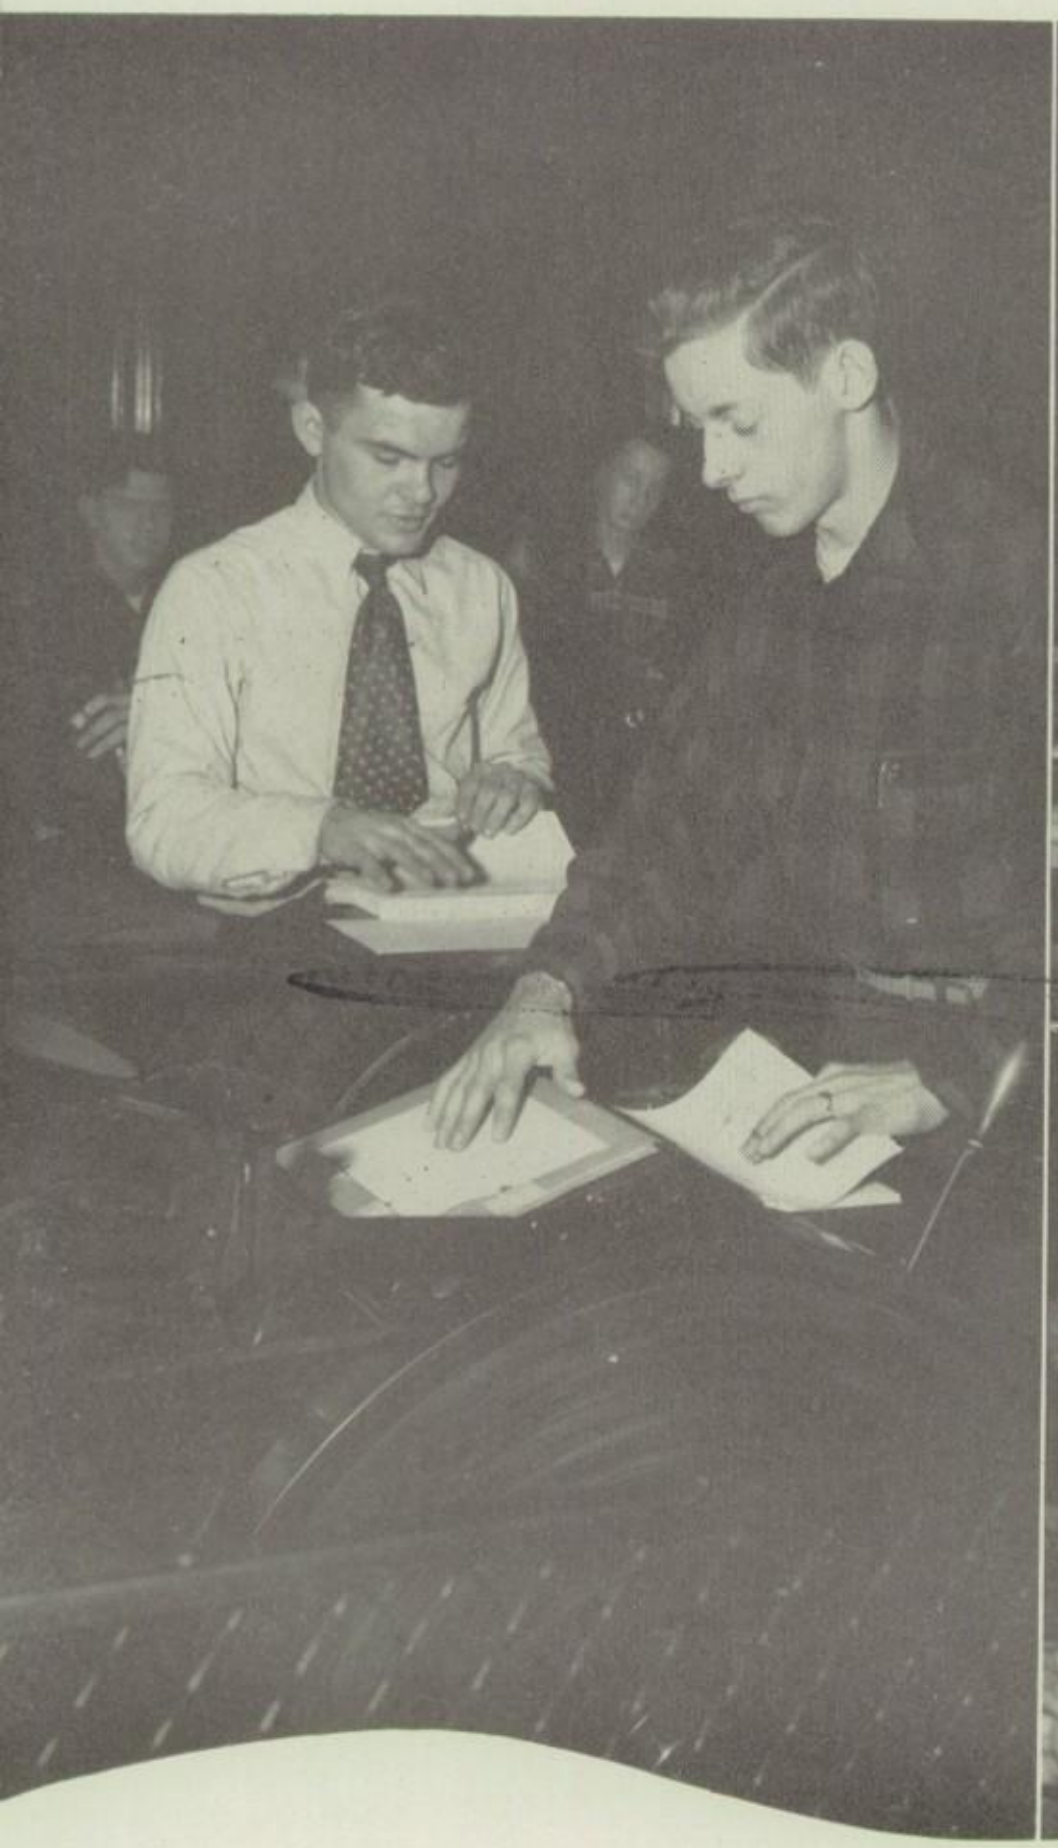
CALUMET

at Work

Glad to leave it? "Sure, sure," any senior will tell you. "I'll be glad to get outta this slave house. No more homework, no sourpuss teachers naggin' at you, no tests. Golly, I feel sorry for the poor suckers just comin' in with all that ahead of them. "That's what any . . .

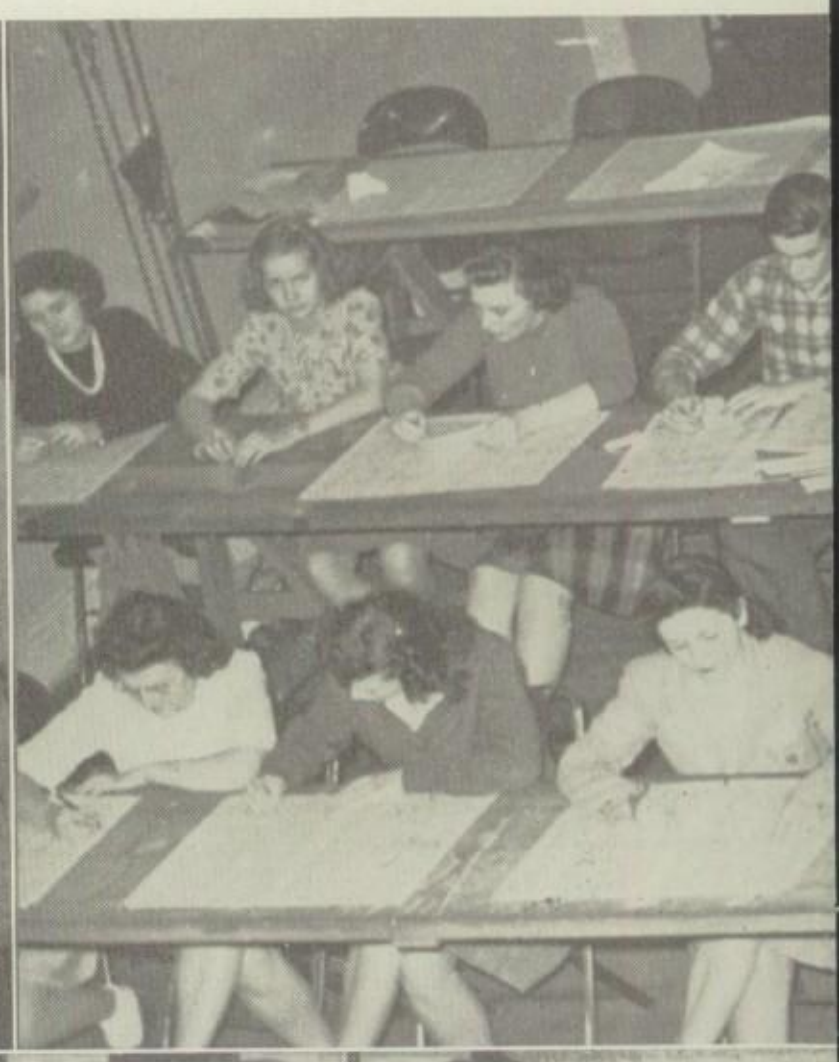
. . . senior will say and then he or she will walk off with an air of one joyfully laying down a troublesome burden. "No tests," she'll exclaim joyfully. "No home-work," he'll exult . . . but then, thinking that there will be no more Friday night dances, no hayride parties . . .



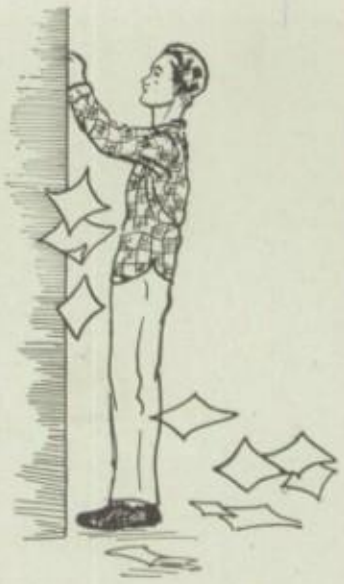
. . . and no more of those friendly get-togethers at the hangout, the glad-to-be-rid-of-it air slips away like foam from the prow of a swift yet reluctantly moving ship. A wave of nostalgic memories seems to sweep over a person at this phase of life . . . some happy, some . . .

. . . ridiculous, some sad, and other treasured ones which are stored away carefully in the inner cupboards of the mind to be brought out from time to time in the future and relived. A few recollections will lose their savor with age, but other sights, sounds, yes, and . . .

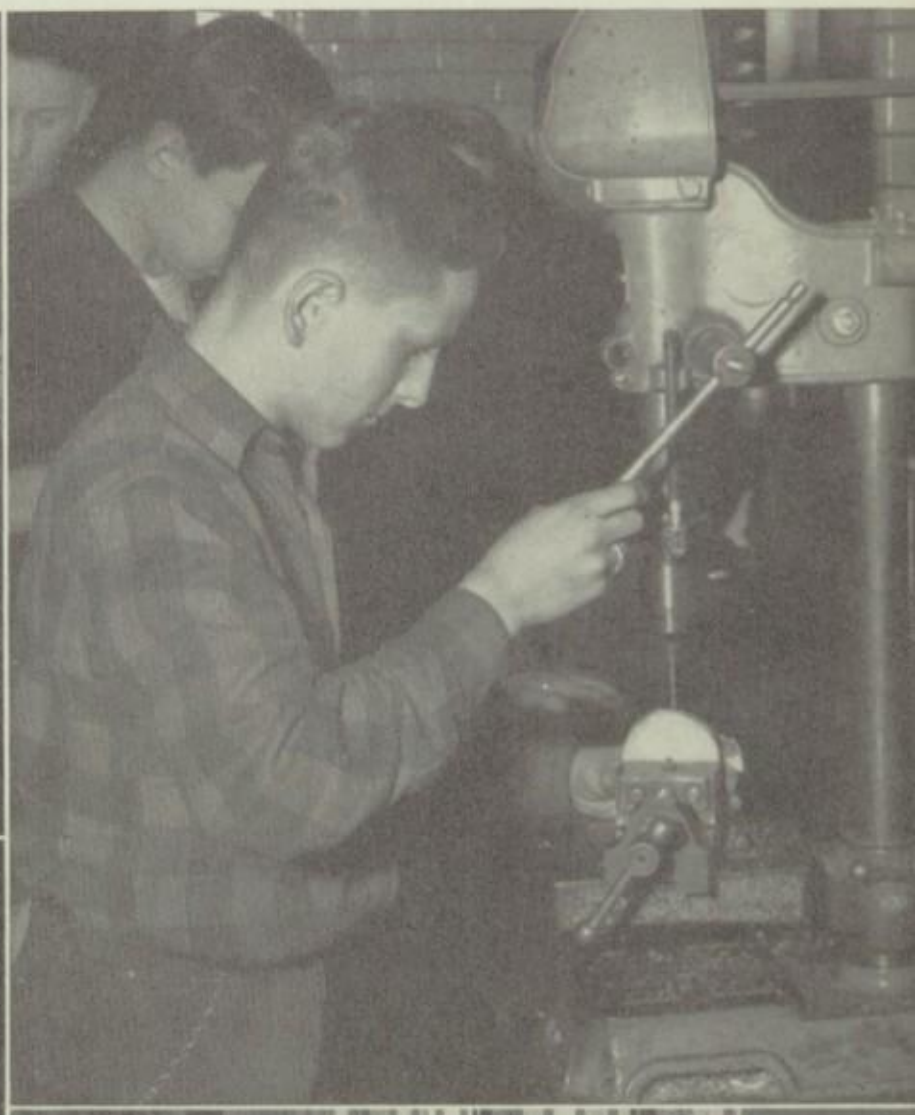
. . . smells, will come back at one's command — more real and vital than ever . . . a snapshot of the "fellas," draped over each other's shoulders grinning like a massive toothpaste ad—all in baggy T shirts . . . a grimy frayed red hair bow, lost from the pigtail on your . . .



. . . first date . . . and that check for seventeen dollars and six cents that took your breath away when the gang "did the town" on prom night . . . you wonder how in the world you ever survived the various club initiations . . . and whatever caused boys to get "brush" hair cuts . . .



. . . that made their heads resemble cue-balls? . . . the endless polishing of R.O.T.C. buttons . . . "fragrant" chemistry experiments . . . you remember how uncomfortable and stiff you felt, in that era of sloppy-joes, unpressed trousers, and hat-clapped-on-the-back-of- . . .



. . . your-head, when you were dressed within an inch of your life for the big formal dance and how awkward you must have been when, just learning to dance, you asked the local glamour girl for a whirl around the dance floor . . . and, oh, the humiliation of it all when a girl's . . .

. . . number one "he" drops in and catches her in cold cream and curlers . . ."pin-ups" pasted on lockers and falling out of notebooks at the worst possible moments . . . a note furtively passed in class and the chagrin when that nosey fellow across the aisle read it . . .

. . . the crush you had as a Freshie on the president of the senior class (gosh, what I ever saw in him) . . . the thrill of seeing your name in print in the Crier . . . and the girls' slumber parties where no-one ever slept a wink . . . that long, long moment that seemed like a . . .

. . . million years before "she" said, "Why, yes, I'd love to go to the dinner dance with you" . . . and later, after all the scrimping and saving for it, the dance was called off . . . it shouldn't happen to a dog. All these "little" things, mixed with the big ones, make up the fabric . . . . . . of high school life, a fabric which takes four years to weave, and now, at the end of those four years, they seem so incredibly short . . . later, these years will be looked back upon as carefree irresponsible times when there was little to do but enjoy life. Now, the thought . . . . . of leaving the bobby-sox era behind and going into the world on your own or going into the service—which puts you more on your own than ever—makes a person a little weak-kneed. The vision of stalwart heroic-looking Youth, diploma in hand, gazing clear-eyed into . . . . . and beyond the sunrise of the Future, is a very inspiring picture, and it's You. But, right now, a graduate doesn't feel much like gazing at sunrises; he looks back, a trifle sadly before he travels onward. "Glad to leave it? Sure, sure," comes back the hollow echo . . . . . "I wouldn't be in a poor Freshie's shoes for anything in the world!" Yet, as the notes of "Calumet, We're Ever Loyal" ring out on that last night, more than one grad brushes away a furtive tear . . .

Flower girls lead the graduates into the assembly hall.

CALUMET at Play

THE SNOW BALL

Place—Hamilton Park
Date—December 1
Orchestra—Don Fernandos

A night that will long be remembered by all those guys and gals who donned their glad rags for an evening in the bright lights was December 1, 1944, the night of the Senior Girls' Council annual dance.

The "snow couples" danced 'till the wee hours of the morning, to the music of Mickey Prindl and his mellow music makers.

COLLEEN CAPERS

Place—Hamilton Park

Date—March 17

Orchestra—Hal Davis

Sure and 'tis "The Colleen Capers," the Senior Girls Council annual spring dance. This gala affair took place on St. Pat's Day, that good old Irish holiday. Many were the "colleens" and fellows dancing to the sweet strains of Hal Davis' music.

My Date Was

THE SENIOR PROM

Proms! The very word brings thrills, a feeling of excitement, and a "fluttering" of the heart.—Proms! The top social event of the year! Shopping the formal, matching the shoes — pressing the suit, ordering her flowers. A happy night, a gay night, a night to remember.

MEDINAH CLUB

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Social events play an important part in the school curriculum. A well balanced program is the keynote of a successful school life. To fill these needs, Cal offers many activities. Assemblies provide amusing and educational programs; club parties and initiations add festivity to the school day; while Friday Night Socials bring well chaperoned entertainment for the evening. It is in part to these activities that Cal owes its abundance of fine school spirit and good fellowship.

SOCK HOP

Place—Girls' Gym
Date—October 13
Orchestra—Squires of Swing

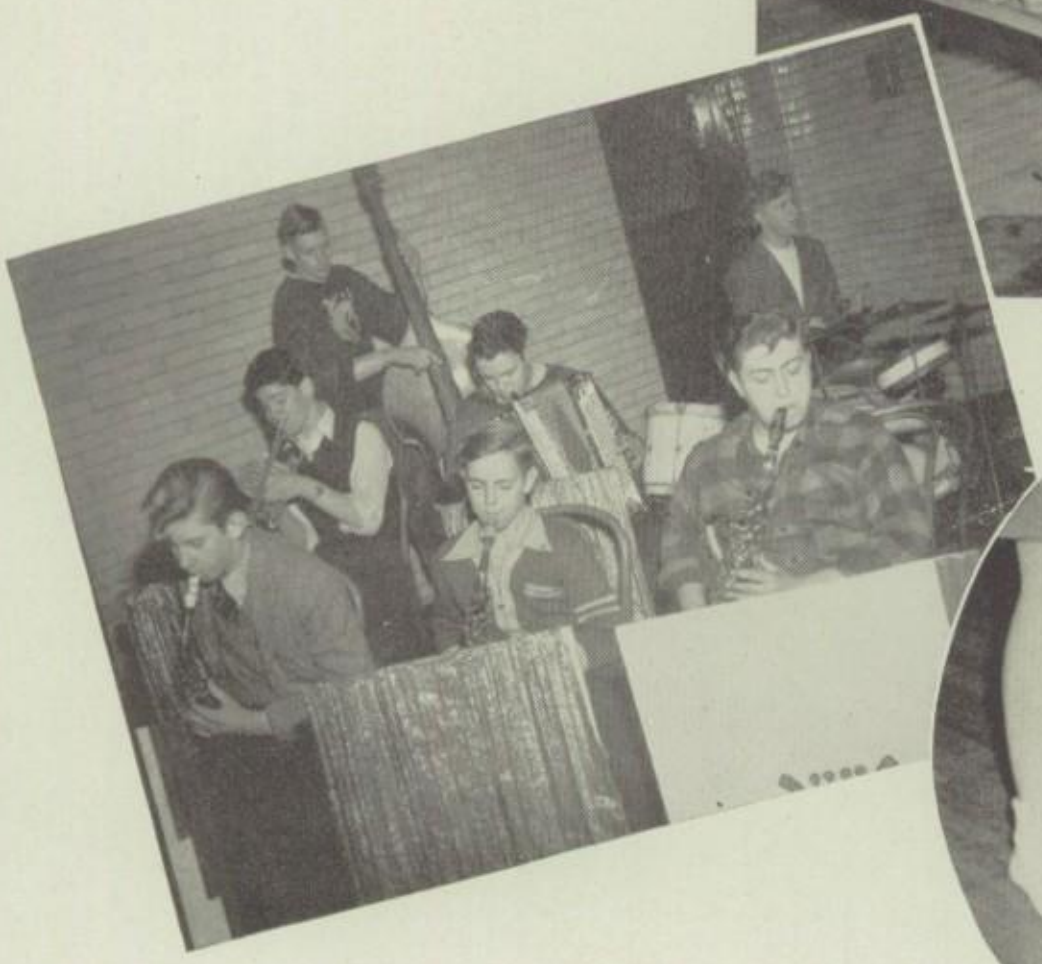
Didjever go to a Sock-Hop?

Red socks, hand knitted ones, plaid socks, checked socks, you're liable to see anything. Yes, even perhaps a polka-dot pair.

Enthusiastic girls and boys stomp and jive in their stocking feet to the scintillating music of a few local boogie-woogie band boys.

A few grunts and groans, an occasional "Be careful of my corns," lend an unequaled tone to the atmosphere.

The Junior Red Cross, under the able leadership of Mrs. Helen Davidge, sponsors this gala affair—often referred to by critics as the "corniest" dance of the year—annually.



SADIE HAWKINS DAY

This event was influenced by Al Capps' cartoon, Lil' Abner. This is about the only time it's right and proper to chase "yo ideal." Cal's Lil' Abners line up and at the starting signal the race begins with the Daisy Maes hot on their trail. The gal that captures a guy has a partner for the rest of the dance.

THE VICTORY VARIETIES

VICTORY VARIETIES, the gala extravaganza presented annually by the Auburn Park Lions' Club . . . beautiful dancing girls . . . exquisite scenery . . . songs galore . . . students get a taste of theatrical life . . . the smell of grease-paint . . . Mr. Hunter's favorite pastime . . . hilarious jokes not to be forgotten . . . touching patriotic scenes . . . On stage!! Last curtain!!

ASSEMBLIES

Cal's assemblies are a pleasant break in school days packed with work and study. The programs are many and varied. A clever magician that mystifies his audience, an educational movie, an impressive Armistice Day ceremony that brings a lump to everyone's throat, interesting speakers, or just a "pep assembly" — each one a treat for Calites.

PARTY ROOM

One of the important functions that takes place in room 117 is the mothers' teas which are given especially for freshmen and graduating senior mothers.

Room 117 is known as the party room of Calumet because clubs hold most of their social functions there where they may dance to the music of the juke box and serve refreshments.

FRED LEPPIN
A.C.C.L. president

To hear "Mr. Daly," just naturally makes one think of the A.C.C.L. He is the faculty backbone of the organization and keeps the club rolling ahead.

Backing up congenial Mr. Edmund Daly is Fred Leppin, A.C.C.L. president, the man with the gavel. Now and then Fred needs some assistance so Tom Clarke - vice president comes to the rescue. Then there's Frannie Bilek, ably ticking away her minutes as secretary and Elaine Richards who doesn't claim to be Morgenthau but keeps the books out of the red.

A. C. C. L.

The letters A.C.C.L. mean to Calumet students the "All Calumet Civic League." It is the governing body of the school, the life blood of student activity, and the background of every school function. It has the power to appropriate funds for school maintenance or improvement, for charity, or for school welfare; to organize events to promote school activity and morale; to petition the faculty for redress of grievances, and to pass legislation for the promotion of student discipline.

This year, under the sponsorship of Mr. Edmund Daly, the A.C.C.L. has aided in war stamp sales, paper and scrap drives, and servicemen's benefits, and has organized Room 117 as a social room, in addition to the regular duties.

Shirley Weber headed the art committee; Charlotte Kennedy was chairman of the grammar schools' committee; Mary Jane Gates undertook the planning of the dance, and Margie Mathes headed the publicity.

Besides salvaging materials vital to the war effort and helping to make the school a more pleasant place, the Clean-up campaign had its social events which included the dance, an assembly, and the crowning of a king and queen.

P. T. A.

The Calumet Parent-Teacher Association, under the able direction of Mrs. George Anderson, has completed another successful year.

Among the activities of the P.T.A. during the past year was the successful performance, "Show of Shows," staged to purchase an organ for Calumet auditorium.

The P.T.A. has always been on deck when any occasions for financial support arise. The students and faculty are ever grateful to this fine organization for its wonderful work.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves is one of the larger feminine organizations at Calumet, and is composed of upper class lasses. They have given much needed help to Chicago hospitals by wrapping swabs and rolling bandages. Many of the girls also serve as nurses' aides. small but mighty school paper. Cal's "literary geniuses" are many and each column or feature is a treat in itself. On Crier day there is an air of expectancy until session time, then a "mad dash" to get yours before the supply runs out, and then eyes greedily scanning the pages to see if they "made" any of the columns. Not only do the Calites eagerly await each week's issue, but our interested readers include many servicemen along the far-flung battlefronts.

SENIOR GIRLS COUNCIL

When there's a job to be done in a hurry the Senior Girls' Council is the group called upon. They are the senior girls with a G+ average who have been recommended by at least ten teachers. Their most prominent aim is service to the school. They serve at teas and other social affairs and sponsor some of the most popular dances of the season. Their blue and white uniforms are as familiar around Cal as are the wise old owls over the entrances. Under the capable leadership of Miss Mildred Erhart, the girls have contributed many worthwhile and helpful activities for bettering the school.

DREAMERS

When these boys were young
They often played soldiers.
They would fall, mortally wounded,
To the dust
And rise to play again.
Now, when they are real soldiers,
They fall, but will never rise again.
As they lie in mud and cold,
Do they dream of other days,
Of laughing and playing soldiers
In the sunshine?

—Janice Bradley.

High school days are crammed with many activities of both work and play. Prior to the war it did not seem possible that such a crowded schedule could be stretched to include any more activities. But if the will to do so and the cause to work for is there, nothing becomes impossible. This has been proved by the "all-out" enthusiasm which has been put forth by Cal students. Appreciating the privileges of this great free country of ours and desiring to preserve the freedom which means so much to them, Calites are doing all that they possibly can to further the war program.

When the first "all-out" call for help in the war effort was issued, Calites were a bit bewildered as to just how a young high school student could do his part in such a big program. A way was found. Tons of paper and scrap iron were carted, carried, and lugged by loyal students eager to help in replenishing the diminishing scrap and paper supply so vitally needed. Our girls have been busy putting in all their spare time in making bandages, knitting squares, and selling war bonds at our bond booth in the first floor foyer. The Polish soap drive, the gathering of milkweed pods which are used in making life jackets, and the collection of warm clothing for the Russians, are among the many outstanding tasks to which Calites have so whole-heartedly contributed. The Girls' Service League has done a fine job of keeping our servicemen supplied with letters.

R. O. T. C.

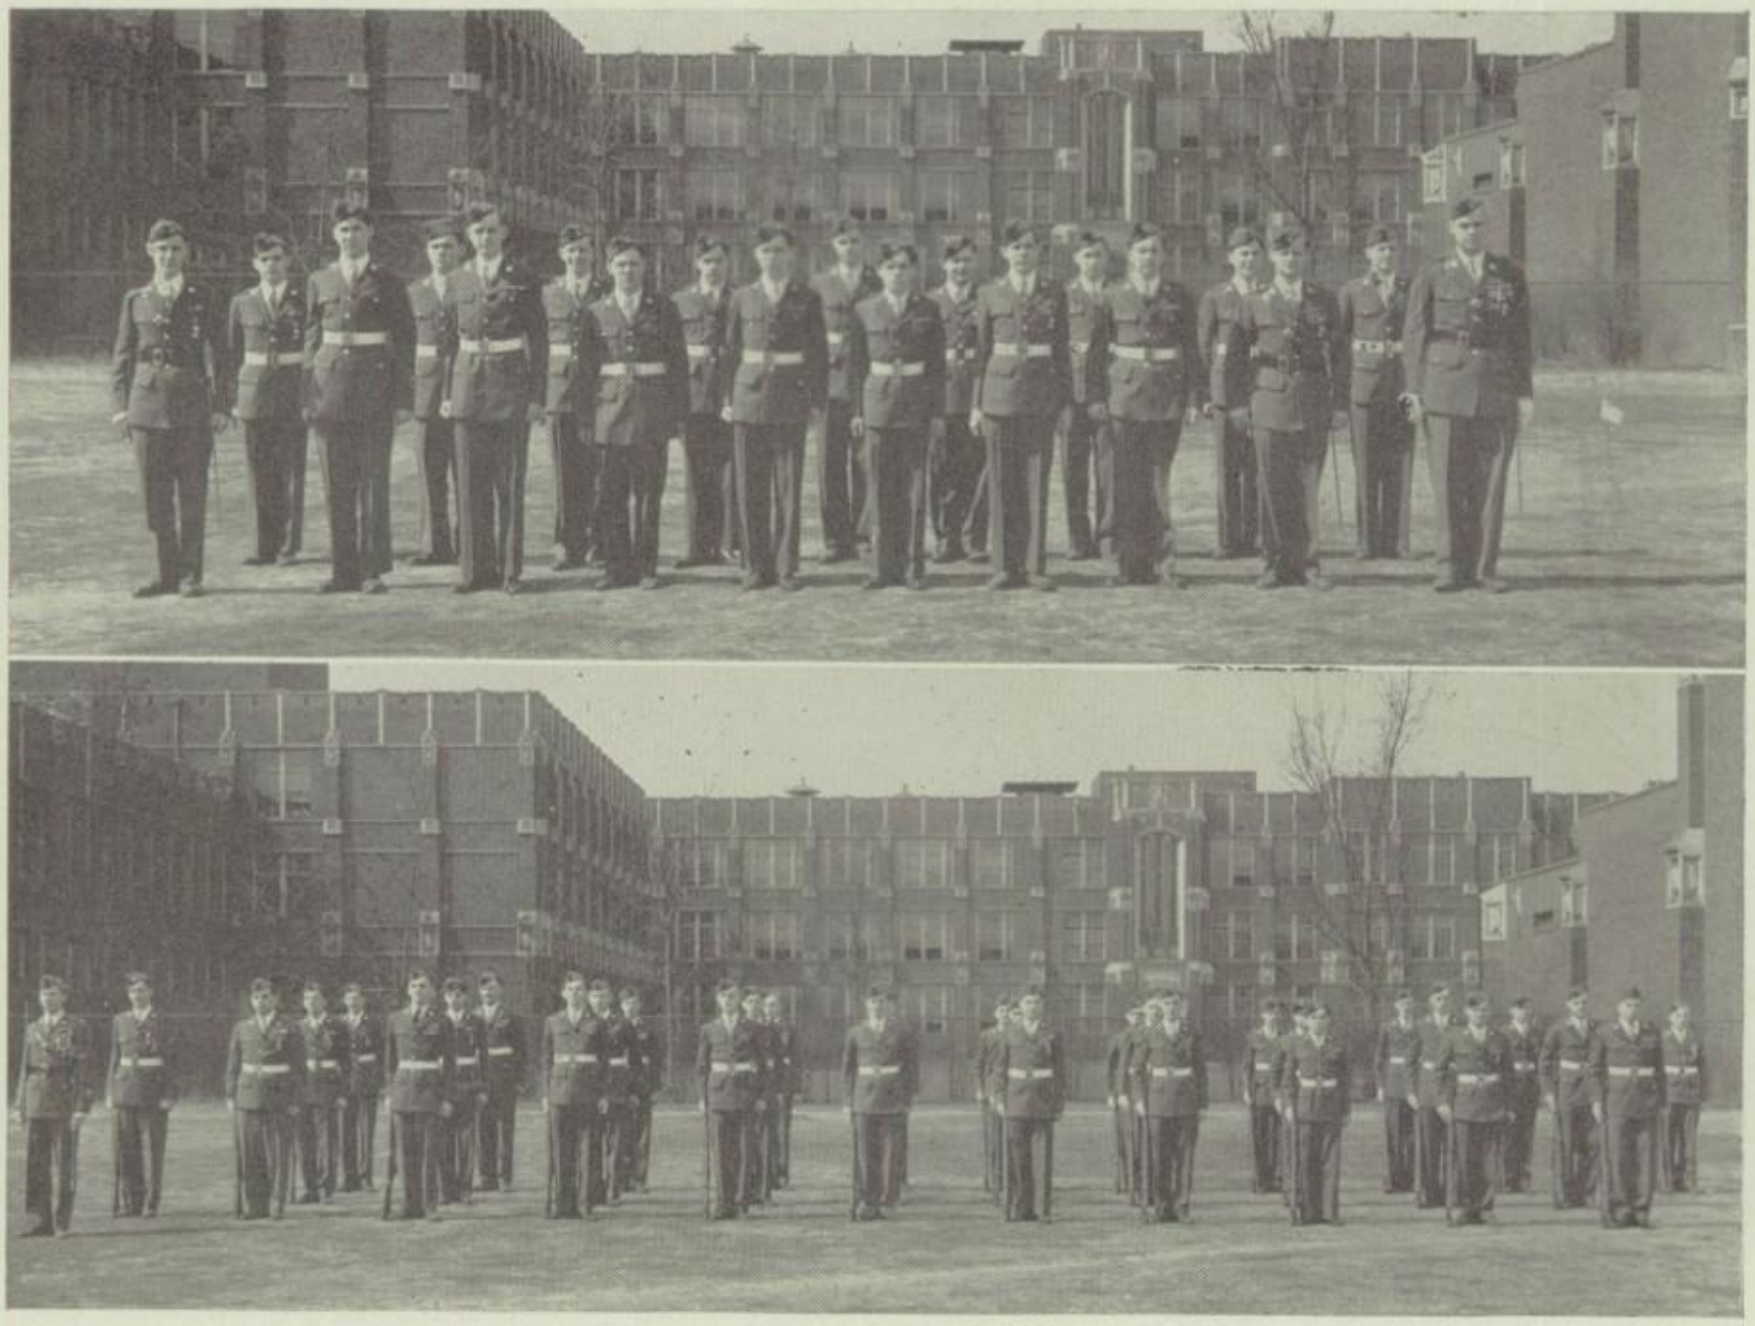
The Reserve Officers Training Corps, under the command of Lt. Col. Hugo Anderson for the Fall Semester, Lt. Col. George Walthius for the Spring Semester, and Military Instructor Thomas J. Scully, has been working hard all year. The year's work is brought to a close each spring at the city-wide Federal Inspection.

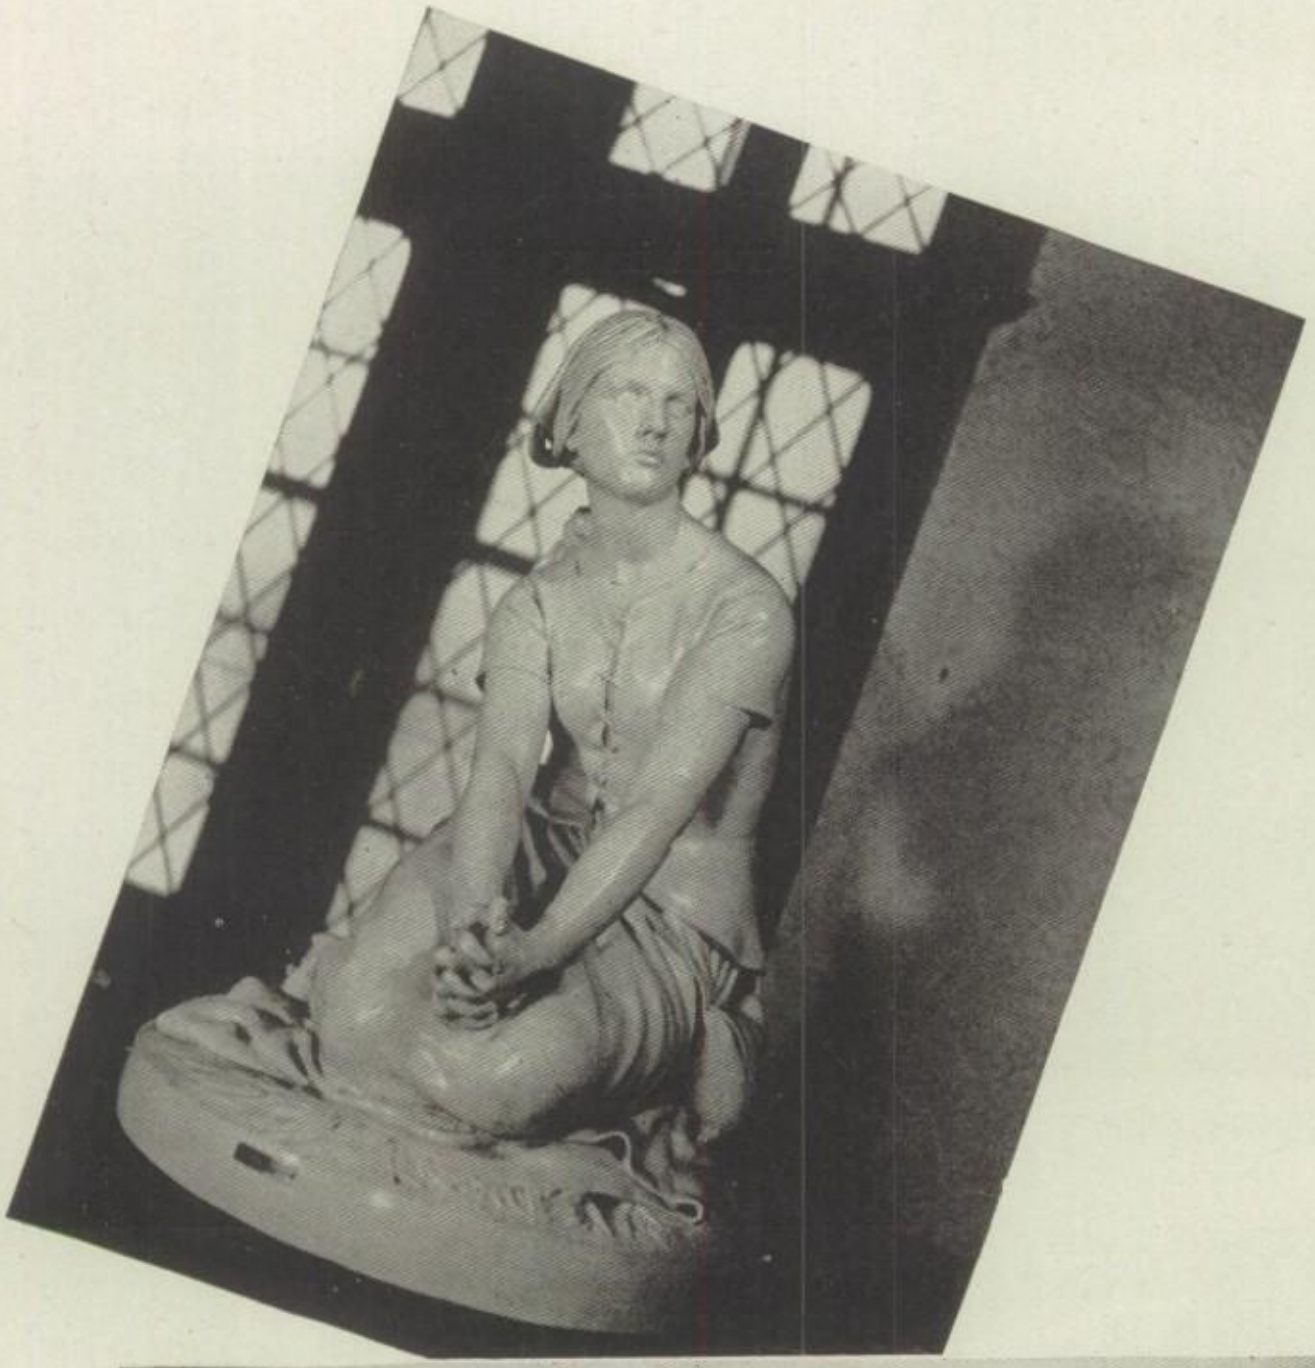
Besides the picked platoon, the Corps of Guards, the Rifle Team, and other military organizations, bowling, swimming, officers and non-coms' clubs and other informal activities have been added to make the Calumet Battalion one of the best in the city.

LIEUT. COL. GEORGE WALTHIUS

The Corps of Guards and the Picked Platoon make up two of the most important units in the Calumet R.O.T.C. battalion.

The Corps of Guards is busy all year guarding at socials, assemblies, dances and football games. The Picked Platoon, commanded by Lt. Colonel George Walthius, is composed of the outstanding cadets of the unit.





Familiar to all Calites are the statue of Joan of Arc and the fireplace in the first floor foyer.

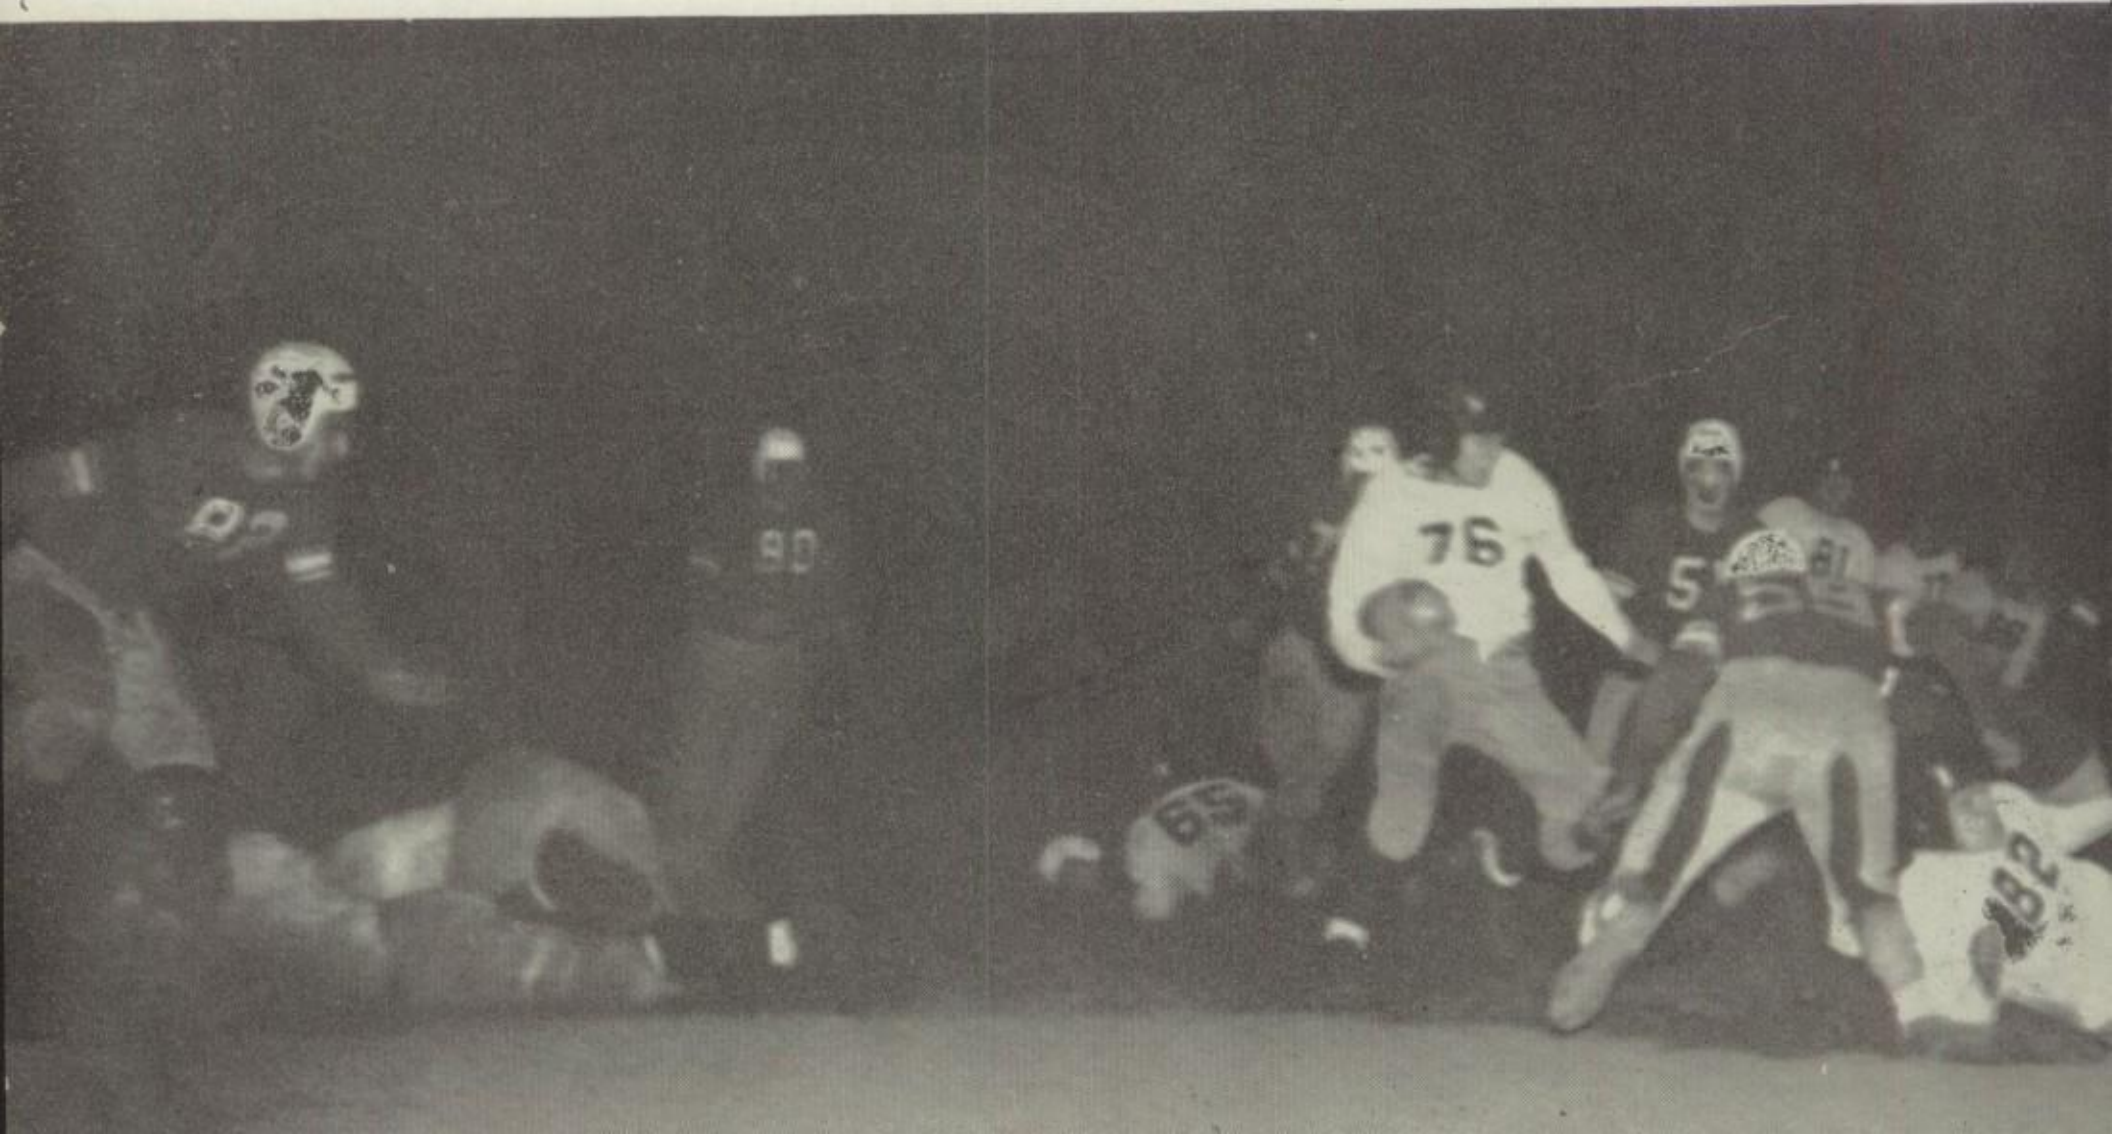
FOOTBALL

1944

The 1944 season found Cal's football squad minus many of the outstanding stars who had enabled the Indians to capture the South Section Crown the previous year. Despite this loss, the team carried on and made a remarkable showing by winning three and dropping three of their league games. The members of this sparkling eleven deserve credit for the fine fighting spirit they displayed throughout the season.



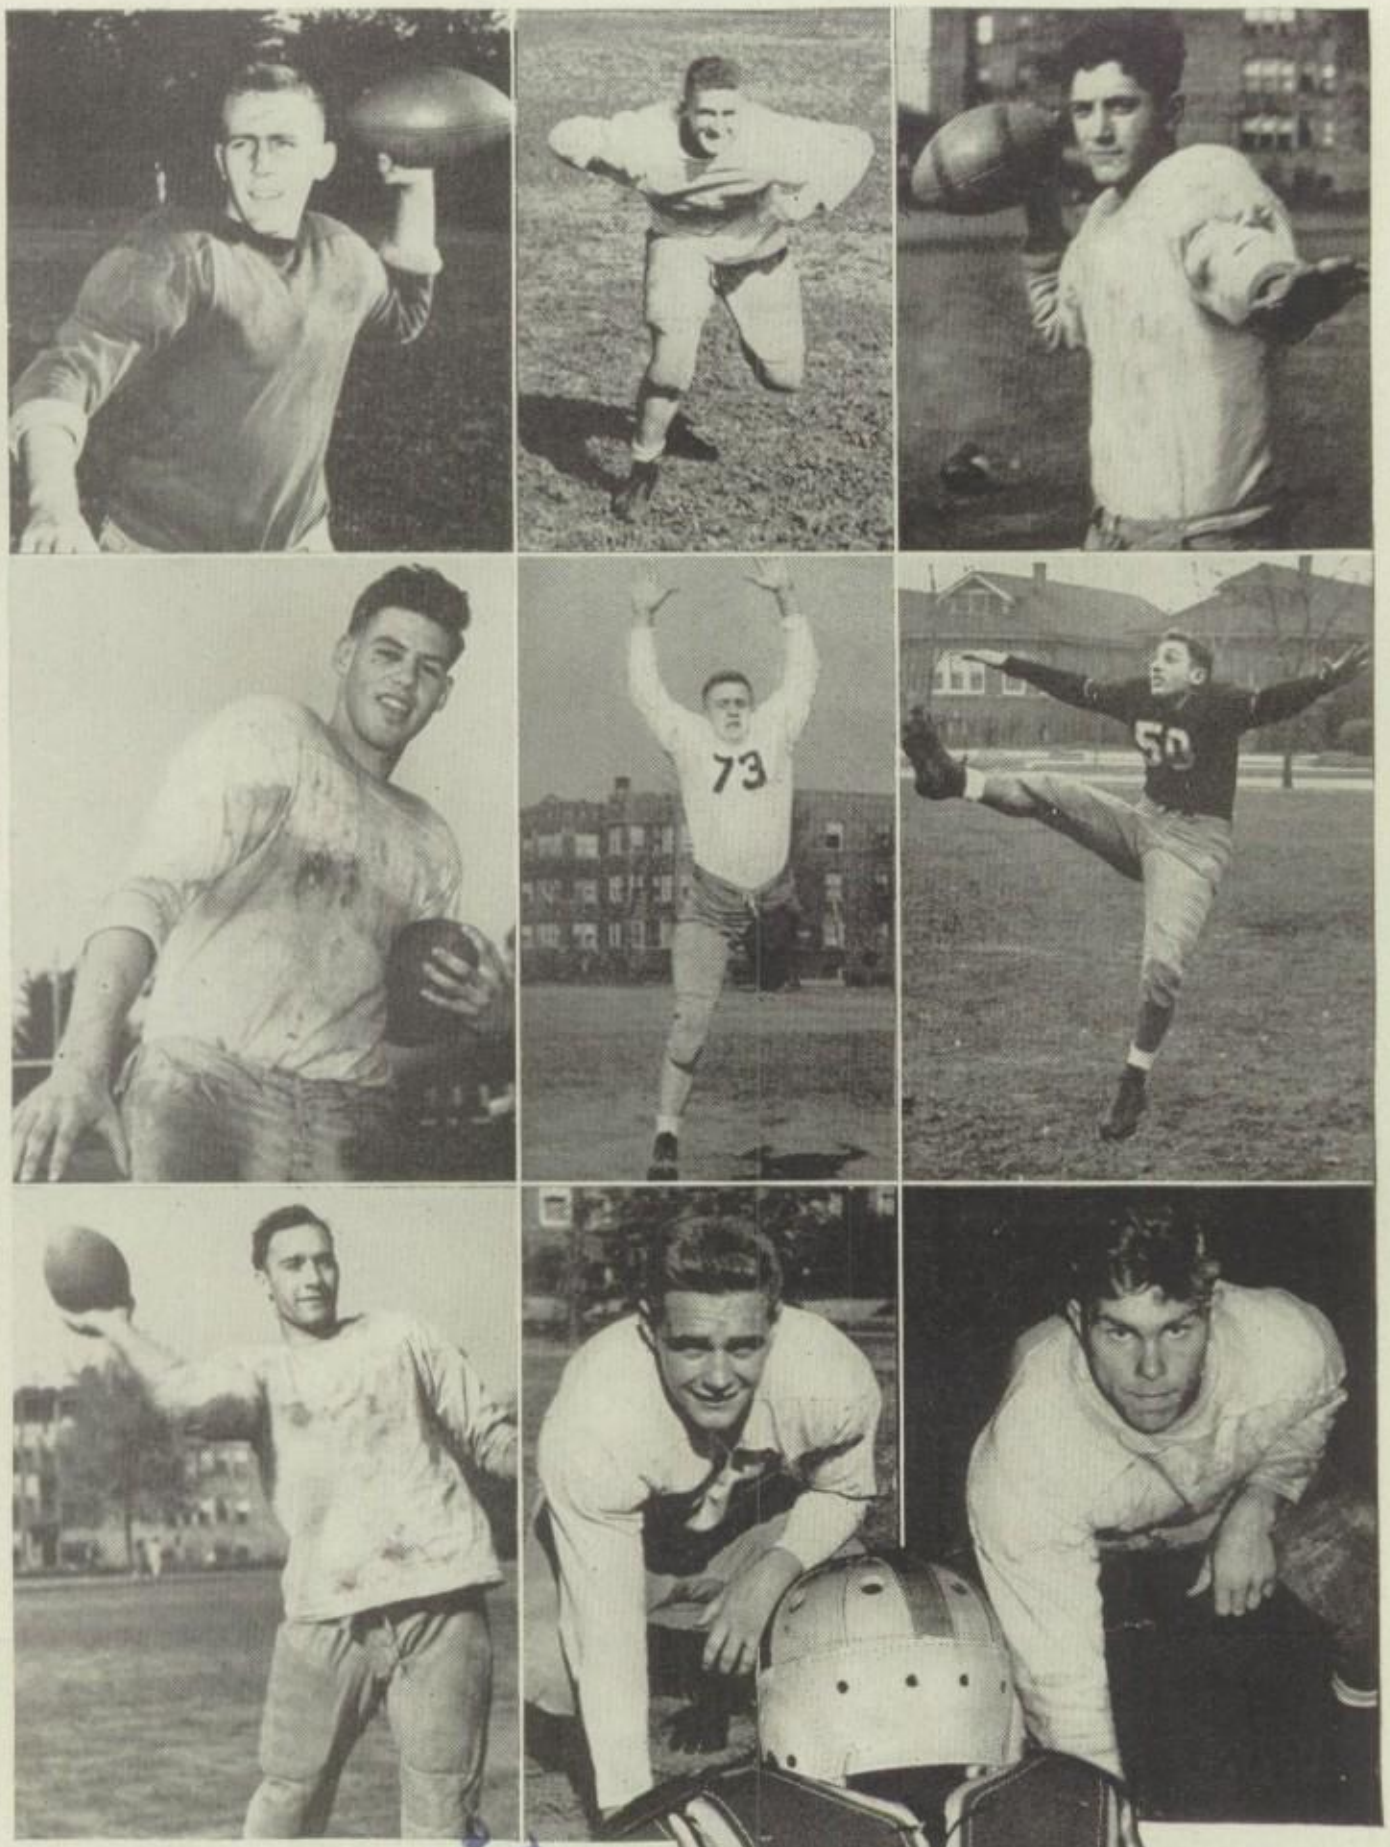
JOHN BUERGER

WALTER FAY

COACH BOYLE

Led by two capable captains, Walter Fay and John Buerger, Calumet proved to be one of the top teams of the section. The running plays of Gene Anderson and Bob Friend, and the expert place kicking of Clarence Klimson tallied many points for the ol' alma mater.

Also there was a warm and understanding feeling which existed between the players. This gave the Indians something that many teams lacked, TEAM-WORK. In every game this asset was used to the best advantage. Win or lose, Cal's grid boys played fine football throughout the season.



Dynamite

The Team

The kick off . . . the game . . . the final "Victory" cry—but none of the excitement can equal the thrill as the queen receives the crown. This year's popularity queen was Jo Anne Kinsella, dark haired, vivacious, cheer leader. She and her court rode in convertibles and the crowd cheered one of the most exciting popularity contests ever held at Cal.

Cal's spectators watch a tense moment of the game.

Sweating it out.

BASKETBALL

Cal's senior basketball team carried on the tradition set by previous squads by rating as one of the finest quintets in the city. Finishing third in south section the Indians entered the city semi-finals but were defeated by Phillips 32 to 30 in a very close contest.

Getting off to a slow start the junior cage team gained momentum near the end of the season and wound up in fifth place in the section standings.

AT CALUMET

One of the most important parts of the physical education program at Calumet is intramural basketball. Each session forms a cage team and is represented in this activity. The winning teams of each year receive shields. Session 810 was the school champion of this year.

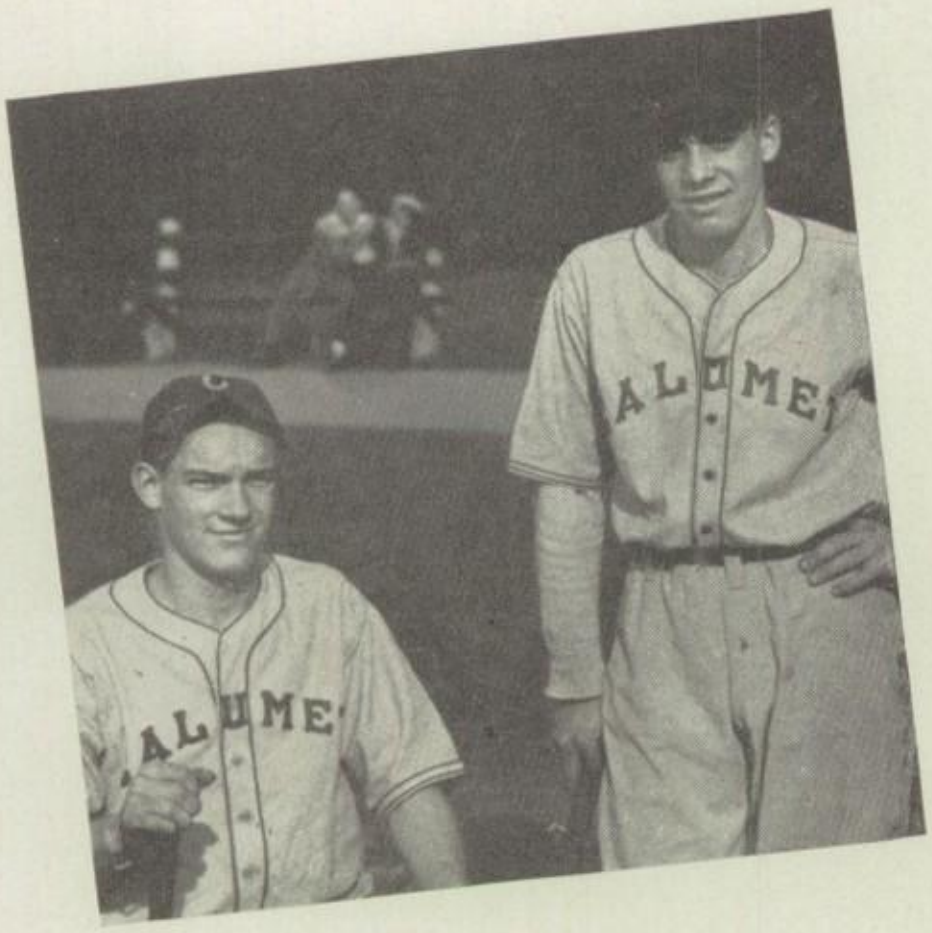
BASEBALL



As the Temulac goes to press the baseball season is still in its youngest stages. The Indians have played only three practice games, winning two and losing one.

Led by co-captain Marty Sebastian, second baseman, and Ray Krahn, left fielder, the team combines clever base running with a fast breaking infield that clicks with clock-like precision to achieve success as a winning baseball team.

Only three lettermen returned to the team this year but prospects look bright and Cal's '45 nine is expected to uphold the outstanding records set by previous diamond squads.

WRESTLING

The 1945 wrestling team, after many mishaps and disappointments, came through a tough schedule with flying colors.

The squad was hampered by injuries, failures, and many other causes. After Dave Hoare joined the navy, Mr. Richard Busch took over the reins of the team, and did a commendable job with the matmen. The team finished third in the South Section race with a record of four wins and two losses.

Joe Rockwood won the city championship in the 165-lb. class and came in second in the state championship in the 175-lb. class.

SWIMMING

Because of a shortage of physical education instructors Calumet did not have a swimming team this year. However, every boy taking gym was required to participate in swimming activities one period a week. Here they learned the principles of "wartime swimming" which will certainly help them as they go forth into a war torn world.

Practise goes forward briskly in the pool.

One of the most outstanding events of the year takes place in the early Spring, when the straightest most erect girls are contestants in a posture contest. To be eligible, these girls must have excellent or superior grades in posture, and approximately twenty-five of these lasses compete in the finals.

Three final places are awarded, and this year, Gloria Gronholm, Anne De Forest, and Gloria Rosinski were tops.

Several of these girls are chosen as flower girls to lead the graduates into the assembly hall on graduation night.

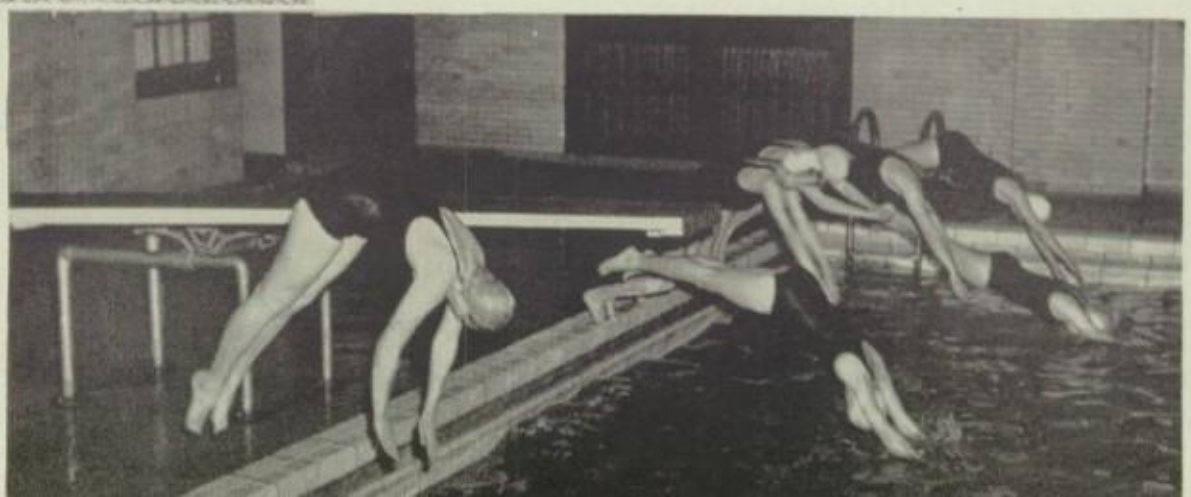
Although the girls have no swim team or club at the present time, the pool is always a scene of great activity when it is turned over to them. Splashing, churning water, cries of mock distress, and often the rhythmic sound of the more serious ones chugging steadily up and down, bent on doing so many lengths before the period is over. Almost every girl at Cal can swim.



Cal girls as well as boys have sports in which they participate. They take part in volleyball, basketball and soccer tournaments every semester. There are inter class events and the winners of the tournaments are the all-star teams of the school.

The gym is adequately furnished with all the necessary equipment to help keep the girls in "shape." A few gym periods are spent each week on the obstacle course. When the course was first started the gym echoed with creaking bones but now the limber appendages cause no trouble in the least.

"The smallest class in the history of Calumet." That's what they said about the class of February, '45. This was true and yet, as Bob Enroth, class vice-president, said at graduation, "You must remember all those stories about the best things being in small packages." Yes, there were a lot of "good things" in that class.

By the time graduation rolled around, many of the boys had left to fight in the service of their country, among them, Dick Johnson, president of the class. In this group also were Joe Reid, Paul Walsh, Von Pruitt, and a number of others. It was only a remnant of the actual class who were there at Cal on that night in January but those who were there were so very proud of those absent and their thoughts were with them.

COMMITTEES

There's always a feeling of excitement when the graduation committees are being chosen. This one wants to serve on the Prom committee and that one wishes to have a hand in the commencement planning. Finally, it's all over and the little groups are established, pleased to be selected, eager to do their part in planning the Great Day. Below are the groups which helped make the Feb'45 prom and graduation a success.

Graduation day has been a goal towards which we, the graduates of the June '45 class, have been eagerly working during the past four years. But as that day approaches, many of us are skeptical as to whether the outside world affords as many opportunities as we had thought.

We are sad to see so many of our classmates depart for the armed services, some perhaps never to return, but we have accepted this necessary interruption in our daily lives in the true American spirit.

Our motto has been "Carry on" and we shall, until peace reigns again in the world.

COMMITTEES

Graduation committees! Magic words that mean, "It won't be long now!" Words that mean deciding on the place and date of the prom—and the darling invitations. Words that mean more serious problems, such as preparations for the momentous day itself and the ceremony of graduation, longed for and yet dreaded by many, but always of supreme importance, for that night, of all nights in the lives of the grads, is theirs alone.

LUNCH ROOM

MRS. HAZEL RAGEN

A well-balanced, economical meal is available to students in Cal's spic and span lunchroom. Under the supervision of Mrs. Hazel Ragen, the lunchroom has maintained its high standard even in war time.

Two wool afghans, such as the one pictured, have been made for the wounded veterans by Junior Red Cross girls.

TEMULAC

Pictured here is the small but capable staff that was responsible for the making of this Temulac. With Mrs. Gwen Hultenschmidt advising and supervising, the Temulac staff has been working these past few months writing, cutting, and pasting, and the photography staff, under Mr. Edward Hazleton, has been busy in the new dark room printing and developing. Now, with a sigh of relief, we present the '45 Tem.

STAGE HANDS

These boys belong to one of the hardest working gangs of fellows in dear old Cal. Yes, they really know the ropes. They are the stagehands who "officiate" unknown and unsung at all Cal assemblies.

Their names are Harry Egan, Tom Curtin, George Babcock, Ken Lambros, and Ralph Gabric. So, hats off to these kids in coveralls—the boys behind the footlights!!!

Whoops! There they go. Cal's busy little brownies behind the scenes.
